The Haunted Windchimes Return to the FAC

COLORADO SPRINGS (November 12, 2015) — The Colorado Springs Fine Arts Center (FAC) is excited to announce the return of “Pueblo’s Best Export Since Steel” The Haunted Windchimes to the FAC’s Mainstage Friday, January 8, 2016 at 7:30p. This will be their third performance at the FAC and the first two shows were completely sold out!

The Haunted Windchimes sound is very traditional folk and blues and the songs have a vintage quality, as if they might have been written yesterday or 75 years ago. The groups’ subtle and collective genius features original material written by all four members.

It’s the vocal harmonies that really set them apart, a three-headed juggernaut of Desirae Garcia (ukulele), Chela Lujan (banjo) and Inaiah Lujan (guitar). When their voices blend, it is nothing short of beautiful. The sound is often moody and melancholy, but it is always deeply affecting. That sound is embroidered by the instrumental mastery of Mike Clark (harmonica, fiddle, mandolin, guitar and concertina).

“They recreate the vibe of rural 1930s music with a contemporary consciousness. The rustic, honeyed harmonies are a delight.” – Bruce Sylvester, Sing Out! Magazine

“The Haunted Windchimes paint an evocative and compelling musical picture with familiar hues of folk, blues and Americana.” – Cory Casciato, Denver Westword
